HAPPY THANKSGIVING
from all of us at the Wyoming Fine Arts CENTER

Happy Thanksgiving!

As the holidays approach, The Wyoming Fine Arts Center has so many things for which to be thankful.

The community, the families, the faculty and staff, have all worked together to continue to find ways to #StayCreative this year. I want to thank you for your amazing support and continued belief in our team to navigate these challenges!

As we leave behind the warm weather months, our team is dedicated to continue to provide programming for the families and students in the community. Some of that programming will come from The Center, but other programming I will share from the amazing organizations in Cincinnati still producing work.

This week, I am excited to share The Know Theatre's production of Zack by Christian St. Croix. There are 8 livestream performances followed by three weeks of video on-demand access. You can purchase your tickets at <https://www.knowtheatre.com/zack/>.

Inspired by the Saturday morning teen sitcoms of the early 90s, "ZACK" is a clever satirical comedy, set in 1991, that takes on race and tokenism from the rose-colored P.O.V. of two teens of color enrolled in a mostly white Southern California high school.

Teen fashionista, Gina, and lovesick surfer boy, P.J., find themselves hand-chosen to be members of an elite clique of cool students led by prank-happy new student, Zack. But when Zack plans a prank that crosses the line, can they stop him before it's too late?
